

MEET YOUR FRIENDS AT THE ELECTRIC COTTAGE

910 EAST SECOND STREET; OPEN DAILY, 1 TO 9 P. M.

Five hundred of you visited the ELECTRIC COTTAGE in two days, and one of them a rainy day, and to each of you we extend a cordial invitation to come again. We'll show you new things every time you come, and try to make each visit more pleasant than the last.

Eventually you will have your house wired, if it is not already, and now is the time to become familiar with the electrical equipment of the home.

Meet your friends and together see how electricity warms the rooms--cools the rooms--lights the cigars--lights the house--cleans the carpets, floors, ceilings, books--heats everything from the baby's milk to the range--does all the washing and ironing--does the sewing and hemming--cooks all the things to live on--makes you well when you are sick--frightens away the burglars in the night time.

NOTHING FOR SALE. PURPOSE OF COTTAGE STRICTLY ONE OF INSTRUCTION AND ENTERTAINMENT.

MOTORED OVER TO HIGH BRIDGE.

SEWER WORK PROGRESSING

Mr. Eugene Merz, his wife and her two sisters, Misses Gladys and Rosamond Holman, and Mr. Merz's nephew, Mr. Myron Merz, motored over to High Bridge, Ky., yesterday and report a most delightful journey. Mr. Merz drove his machine the entire distance, 180 miles without a puncture.

The sewer under construction in Madison Avenue is nearing completion. It is not generally known that the C. & O. R. R. is finishing the mouth of this sewer at the foot of Wall street. It will probably cost the C. & O. R. R. about $500, but then the railroads never do things by halves.

SUFFERS HEAVY LOSS

Lightning Destroyed Barn of Thomas Ellis and Valuable Contents Including Eight Acres of Wheat and Farm Implements.

The details of the burning of the new barn of Mr. Thomas Ellis in Brown County, Ohio, opposite Springdale, last Monday, just came in yesterday.

The barn was struck by lightning and entirely destroyed together with eight acres of wheat which had just been put in the barn awaiting threshing; a new $70 wagon, mowing machine, binder, hay rake, wheat drill, large lot of tobacco sticks and some hay.

The loss was complete and will reach $2,500.

The same flash of lightning struck the fine home of Mr. James Brookover, nearby and damaged the entire contents, but did not set anything on fire. Mrs. Brookover was rendered unconscious and her two children also stunned.

Mr. Brookover's loss is several hundred dollars.
